12th Slovenian Biennial of Illustration

18 Nov - 19 Marc 2017 Cankarjev dom Gallery

The central overview of Slovenian illustration, the Biennial unites older and younger generations of illustrators employing diverse artistic methods and rewards their finest achievements with the Hinko Smrekar Award, as well as the Smrekar distinctions and accolades. The 2016 Life Achievement Award goes to Marjan Manček, presentation of his works will be curated by Tatjana Pregl Kobe. For the past forty years Marjan Manček has employed illustration as his main vehicle of expression, infusing it heavily with his signature humour. In cooperation with the Section of Illustrators of the Union of Slovene Fine Arts Associations; catalogue text by Judita Krivec Dragan
Open: 10:00 - 19:00, Sundays 10:00 - 14:00. Closed: Mondays

The Centres of Printmaking: At the Intersection of Knowledge, Learning and Cooperation

11 Oct - 8 Feb 2017 International Centre of Graphic Arts

The exhibition is being organized in collaboration with two similar institutions from Belgrade and Philadelphia. The Print Center from Philadelphia (USA), founded in 1915, is taking part with works by contemporary artists paired up with artists that have an important historical connection to their organization. The "Academija" Center for Graphic Arts and Visual Researches, founded in 1995, on the other hand, is part of the Faculty of Fine Arts in Belgrade. It presents a selection of prints from its own production with an emphasis on artists of various artistic expressions, to whom printmaking represents an additional opportunity for exploration.

Open: 10:00 - 18:00. Closed: Mondays and 1 Jan

A New Age is Coming! Industry - Labour - Capital

25 Oct - 21 May, City Museum of Ljubljana

The exhibition on industry in Ljubljana that also topicalizes the ever changing relations between labour and capital. It depicts how Ljubljana dealt with new industries as they arrived and offers the experience of "travel through time and space". The show starts off with the sugar refinery on the banks of the Ljubljanica. It goes on to depict capitalists of the time, businessmen whose vision made Ljubljana into an industrial hub. At the same time, the exhibits tell the story of the life of the proletariat. The rise of industry in the late 19th and early 20th century takes a sharp turn after WWII, when factories were nationalised and many capitalists chased out of the country. The end of the war marked the beginning of the ascent of large socialist enterprises. The next break came in the 1990s, when Slovenia shed socialism and enterprises were privatised.
Sundays at 16:30 guided tours in English.
Open: 10:00 - 18:00, Thursdays 10:00 - 21:00. Closed: Mondays and 1 Jan.

The Vugrinec Collection. Croatian Modern Art 1880 - 1945

10 Nov - 12 Mar 2017 National Gallery of Slovenia

The collection of Davor Vugrinec presented for the first time to the public in 2015 at the Art Pavilion in Zagreb as the collection of "masterpieces of Croatian Modernism". As a demonstration of the requirements that make up a successful collecting policy, the collection is an excellent example of ambitious determination that surpasses even some museum collections. The exhibition presents contemporaries, friends, and fellow students of Slovenian artists, from the Šubic brothers, Anton Ažbe, and the Impressionists onwards. Especially storied is the founding era of the "Zagreb School". The exhibition of sixty-five paintings and works on paper and twelve sculptures includes works by Mato Celestin Medović, Vlaho Bukovac, Emanuel Vidović, Oton Iveković, Čikoš Sesija, Mirko Rački, Ljubo Babić, Miroslav Kraljević, Milivoj Uzelac, Marjan Trepše, Vilko Gecan, Vladimir Bečić, Marino Tartaglia, Omer Mujadžić, Ivan Meštrović, Frano Kršinić and others.

Open: 10:00 - 18:00, Thursdays 10:00 - 20:00. Closed: Mondays and 1 Jan.

Plečnik Collection

The new permanent exhibition at the Plečnik House in Trnovo presents the most important projects of the late architect. Plečnik's creativity comes to life through the plans, models and photographs of his creations such as the Zacherl House in Vienna, Prague Castle, the National and University Library in Ljubljana, the Ljubljana Central Market, Žale Cemetery, the Church of St. Michael at the Ljubljana Marshes and numerous other masterpieces. Several plans of Plečnik's never realized visions are also on display. The Cathedral of Freedom, the master's vision of the Slovenian parliament, is especially worthy of our attention.

Guided tours: every hour, on the hour (the last guided tour at 17:00). Groups must not contain more than seven people.

Open: 10:00 - 18:00. Closed: Mondays and 1 Jan.

Frank Uwe Laysiepen – Ulay - "I Other"

1 Dec - 8 Feb, City Art Gallery
Overview exhibition

The work is presented with materials displayed to the public as a whole. Both curators Alenka Gregorič and Tevž Logar focused on art materials (diaries, drawings, photographs, sounds, etc.), which represent the often overlooked, or non-photogenic, creative moments in the artist's practice. Some of the exhibited projects have already become part of the canon of the art of performance, yet some of the exhibition material also present a view into the unknown and ephemeral notes of Ulay's long artistic path.

Open: 11:00 - 19:00. Closed: Mondays and 1 Jan.

Admission free

Puppet Museum at Ljubljana Castle

Slovenia is a country with a rich tradition of puppeteering. The Puppet Museum's permanent exhibition, set up by the Ljubljana Puppet Theatre, introduces you to the history of puppeteering in Slovenia and the creativity of contemporary Slovenian puppeteers, presents the most popular puppet characters, and gives you an insight into puppeteering techniques and the process of creating a puppet show.

After viewing the exhibition, you can try your hand at puppeteering skills.

Open: 10:00 - 19:00 daily

Zoran Mušič (1909-2005)

Permanent exhibition at the National Gallery

Zoran Mušič, the best known 20th century Slovenian-born painter and a man with more than one homeland, spent most of his life between Venice and Paris. He mostly painted landscapes, still lifes, portraits, Dalmatian donkeys and horses, trees, views of Venice, double portraits with his wife Ida, and poignant self-portraits depicting him as an old man. His visual motifs were always related to the Slovenian region of Kras and its typical scenes. He became world famous with his series of paintings We Are Not the Last, in which he relived the scenes he experienced in the Dachau concentration camp. Ljubljana's National Gallery displays the world's only permanent survey exhibition of Mušič's work, which explores the entire range of the famous artist's painting techniques. The majority of exhibited works come from the Ljuban, Milada and Vanda Mušič Collection, owned by the family of the artist's brother.

Open: 10:00 - 18:00, Thursdays 10:00-20:00. Closed: Mondays and 1 Jan.

Tone Lapajne: Memory of Earth

22 Nov - 5 Mar 2017 Jakopič Gallery
Retrospective exhibition by Tone Lapajne, an important Slovenian artist with an impressive oeuvre, but who has yet to get his due. The exhibition Memory of Earth presents the highlights of his oeuvre in various art mediums. Tone Lapajne, as an academic sculptor, created a vast but so far little known opus of sculptures in concrete, iron and wood. Today, he is best known as a painter, especially for his paintings, which he created with the help of soil, usually that from the marshes or salt pans. With them he formed one of the most recognisable and intimate variations of Informel Art.
Saturdays at 16:30 guided tours in English.

Open: 10:00 - 18:00. Closed: Mondays and 1 Jan.

Young Virtuosi International music cycle

13 Oct - 20 Apr, Križanke

Over the past twenty four years the Ljubljana Festival presents to its audience the music cycle, dedicated to the creativity of the young musicians, who have however already gained some experience on both national and international music stages as well as achieved some enviable results at various important music competitions. Usually taking place from fall to spring in the Križanke's charming Knight's Hall from 18th century, the concerts feature the most talented soloists and chamber ensembles. All the concerts are free of charge.

Music

Aurelio is the main cultural representative of the Garifuna community living in Honduras and Belize. Specifically, he is a master of the paranda, a style based around the acoustic guitar that often draws comparisons to the blues for its often bittersweet melodies and sharp social commentary concealed within songs about everyday life. Although not as well known as Cuban son or Colombian cumbia, it is without doubt one of the continent's great music traditions; a style deeply African and Latin American at once. The concert will feature songs from Darandi, a collection of Aurelio's favourite pieces from his career recorded to capture the sound of his incendiary live performances.
